

CONTENTS

	PAGE
1. 'Robbed in Antiquity': Grave opening in seventh-century east Kent – stimulated by cross-Channel influences. By Alison Klevnäs	1
2. William Somner (1606-1669). Part II. By David Wright	25
3. Republican Dressel I Amphorae from East Wear Bay, Folkstone. By Adrian Weston	47
4. Three Weeks of Journeys, Ecclesiastical Ceremony and Entertainment in Kent: letters from Mary Yorke, 1774. By Anthea Jones	59
5. An unusual fifteenth-century building with a special first-floor 'meeting Room' – 15 Knightrider Street, Maidstone. By David and Barbara Martin	70
6. England's earliest painted and framed Royal Coat of Arms (Edward VI, 1547-53) in St Mary's Church, Westerham: the work of a Low Countries' artist commissioned by the Gresham Family. By David M. Boston	84
7. The Deal-type inhumations in Kent: defining an Iron Age mortuary rite in light of new discoveries. By Andrew W. Lamb	98
8. The Brickmaking Industry in Kent c.1825-1900. By Peter Tann	125
9. The History of the Carmelite Priory at Lossenham, Newenden, c.1243-1538. By Richard Copsey	148
10. Rochester Cathedral Masons' marks. By Jacob H. Scott	161
11. Community care: Civic charitable institutions in the Kentish Cinque Ports, c.1300-c.1500. By Sheila Sweetinburgh	183
12. Reconstructing the Prehistoric Landscapes of the Littlebrook Power station site, Dartford. By Phil Stastney et al.	199
13. Understanding Becket's Canterbury: the Legacy of William Urry. By Cressida Williams	213
14. A Roman tile-kiln and an associated third-century hoard of sestertii at Bircholt Farm, Brabourne. By Ernest Black et al.	221
15. Dover Castle and Royal Power in twelfth-century Kent. By Richard Eales	245
16. Excavations in Westgate Gardens, Canterbury, revealing the changing character of Roman Watling Street, and Durovernum's evolving street layout. By Jake Weekes	260
17. Two neighbouring Kent Estates near Hythe and their remarkable artistic connections in the mid eighteenth century. By Rodney Griffiths	275
18. Research and Discoveries	283
19. Reviews	337
20. Obituary	349

